Welcome to the June 2013 edition of the Radio HF Internet Newsletter and a Happy Fathers Day to all the fathers out there. We are seeing some signs of summer finally surfacing here in the Montreal area as spring officially winds to a close later this month.

My wife and I completed our annual Baillie Birdathon, a fundraising event for Bird Studies Canada, on May 10th. We had to do the event a little earlier than we wanted due to my wife having to travel later in the month on business. We were able to find a total of 83 species of birds for the day. We thank those of you who chose to support us, and the birds, with a pledge this year. Your support is greatly appreciated.

Thanks to a number of our HF Newsletter subscribers who stopped by to say hello at a number of hamfests that I have attended so far this spring.

Our Monthly Special Zone for June features webpages on World Oceans Day, Fathers Day, World Refugee Day, International Day in Support of Victims of Torture, and, just for fun, World Juggling Day!

This month's virtual voyage around the world, in the "Where in the World Zone", takes us to the west coast of Africa to the country of Liberia. Officially the Republic of Liberia, it is bordered by Sierra Leone to its west, Guinea to its north and Côte d'Ivoire to its east. It covers an area of 111,369 km2 (43,000 sq mi) and is home to about 3.7 million people.

So, let's get on to this month's websites.

BONITO 1102S RADIOJET RECEIVER

The Bonito 1102S RadioJet shortwave receiver combines innovative design with the advantages of modern computer technology. It has a frequency range of 40 kHz to 30 MHz with an excellent sensitivity of .03 µVolts on a noise level of -137 dBm with an extreme resolution of 144 dB at a sampling of 24 kHz. The Noise floor is extremely low, because there are no active parts between the antenna and the ADC.
Strictly speaking, this radio is not an SDR, although it is exclusively controlled by computer. So far, no SDR has defined, controlled, read or computed anything like the RadioJet. Bonito RadioJet is a short wave receiver with a built-in USB audio device and a 24kHz multi-channel IM jack or to put it simply: The most obvious application of modern radio technology.
The receiver comes with the standard software and the following features:
Reception and recording of transmissions in USB, LSB, CW, AM, FM and DRM. All filters are completely variable and can have their waviness and notches drawn by hand with the equalizer. S-meter and spectroscope have an extremely accurate dBm-scale and can be calibrated. This device derives its power from the USB connection. The antenna input is a female BNC. Made in Germany. 4.5 x 1.25 x 4 inches. This device requires a USB cable (not supplied).

For further information and details on the Bonito RadioJet, please check out the company website at http://www.bonito.de/radiojet/infos/en_rj10_home.htm

RADIO BOULEVARD WESTERN HISTORIC RADIO MUSEUM

http://www.radioblvd.com/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

Western Historic Radio Museum was a real "brick and mortar" RADIO museum that was located in Virginia City, Nevada. WHRM was "open to the public" from 1994 until 2012 - over eighteen years of operation. Though the museum is no longer open to the public, we are still very active in radio communications and radio collecting. We're still actively doing radio history research, especially production and manufacturing history of communications equipment, whether it be commercial, military or homebrew. We still maintain the Western Historic Radio Museum website as an information resource for collectors, restorers and historians. The following article is a short history of how WHRM began followed by a Photo Tour of WHRM taken just after the museum closed.

What Is PICAXE? A PICAXE microcontroller is designed to be the brain of your electronic project. Originally designed as an educational system for schools, the PICAXE system has now also been widely adopted by hundreds of thousands of 'hobbyists' due to its ease of use. Each year thousands of high school students are also introduced to electronics and microcontrollers via building a PICAXE project.

RADIO H.F. BOOK REVIEW ZONE

EDITOR: T. J. "Skip" Arey

Ham Radio for Arduino and PICaxe
Edited by: Leigh L. Klotz, Jr. WA5ZNU
ISBN: 978-0-87259-324-4
Published by The American Radio Relay League
$34.95 Canadian or U.S. - Order # 3244

A new wave of homebrewing is sweeping the amateur radio world. While there is a certain amount of solder melting going on, the real experimenting and inventing is happening inside of a variety of microcontroller chips. Hams are taking, off the shelf. "PIC" type controllers and turning them to dozens of home ham uses. At the Dayton Hamvention this year, TEN-TEC even announced the Model 506 "Rebel" QRP transceiver based on open source microcontroller design. Any ham looking to stay on the cutting edge of ham radio design needs to get smart about these simple and inexpensive systems and all the amazing things they can accomplish.
Leigh's new book introduced the reader to microcontrollers through a series of experiments and projects that will get any serious amateur up to speed in double quick time.
Once you get a handle on the basics, you will find yourself moving on to practical control applications and data acquisition. The projects in the book will find the serious reader into their own ideas. The open source nature of project development for these chips has allowed for a growing community of like-minded experimenters helping each other out and taking these systems into amazing places.
This book is just the tool for starting your journey into ham radios next great frontier.

This book is available direct from ARRL, or from your favourite radio and communications publication supplier.

MORTAL JOURNEY

http://www.mortaljourney.com/

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

A fad or trend, those sometimes odd collective behaviors that are mutually followed by the general population, are intriguing, puzzling, and sometimes alarming. While those that ignore history are doomed to repeat it, those who fail to recognize fads are likely to miss out on the newest "in" thing.
Mortal Journey provides an extensive history of fads and trends from the 1800's through modern day. Parents can use Mortal Journey to research, in depth, the latest trends and fads that their children may be a part of. Kids can use Mortal Journey to find the newest "in" thing and make sure they are not trailing behind their peers. And everyone can use Mortal Journey to discover the fads of yesteryear, research how those trends came about, and yes, chuckle at some of the strange behaviors the general public at times was willing to accept as the "norm".

http://www.wildcoast.co.za/node/749
and
http://www.wrecksite.eu/wreck.aspx?11731

VIA John Fisher, N. Chelmsford, Massachusetts

These two sites have to do with a ship which that left the radar screen, namely the SS Waratah, a large passenger liner which traveled from the UK to South Africa, Australia and back. The ship was not beautiful like the Titanic, but built for comfort on extremely long voyages. During a savage storm off the coast of South Africa, on its second voyage, the liner disappeared. There have been expeditions, and a South African Air force pilot, once in the late 1920's, another around 1950, claimed to have seen it lying on its side...but it has never been found despite many expeditions.

RADIO H.F. PUBLICITY ZONE #3

What is new in books & publications from the American Radio Relay League, the Radio Society of Great Britain, and other publishers?

Morse Code Operating for Amateur Radio
By Rob Brownstein, K6RB and Jim Talens, N3JT
Tune in to the low end of any HF band, and you'll find it populated with ham radio operators using Morse code for casual conversations, chasing DX or fast paced contests. They enjoy practicing a skill that they worked hard to obtaina skill not everyone has. You can learn that skill too. If you are new to Amateur Radio or high frequency (HF) operation, or even if you've been operating HF phone and RTTY but were reluctant to try learning and using Morse code, this book is especially for you.
Morse Code Operating for Amateur Radio is your introduction into the fascinating world of radio communication by Morse code, now simply called "CW". It discusses how to get started in the hobby, the advantages to learning and using Morse code, how to set up your station for CW and how to adjust your Morse code key. Learn the protocols and techniques unique to CW operating and gain the confidence to try out your new skills on the air!
Softcover: 80 pages
Publisher: The American Radio Relay League, Inc.; First Edition/First Printing (March 2013)
ISBN: 978-0-87259-002-4 Order Number: 0004
Price: $15.95 Canadian or U.S.

ARRL's Hands-On Radio Experiments Volume 2
By H. Ward Silver, N0AX
QST's monthly "Hands-On Radio" column, written by Ward Silver, N0AX, is one of the most-read sections of the magazine. Wireless technology continues to develop rapidly and radio experimenters are eager to discover what makes their radios work. As long as we keep putting our hands on radios, there will be techniques to learn and circuits and components to try. ARRL's Hands-On Radio Experiments Volume 2 gathers all of the columns over the past five years, from 2008 through 2012. Once again, Silver expertly leads you through 60 short electronics experiments, designed to increase your understanding of basic radio fundamentals, components, circuits and design:
Electronic Fundamentals
Simulation
Antennas and Transmission Lines
Electronic Circuits and Components
RF Techniques
Practical Construction
Includes a complete parts list from all experiments in Volumes 1 and 2!
Softcover: 144 pages

World War II Radio Heroes - 2nd Edition
By Lisa Spahr
As seen on KDKA and heard on The American Entrepreneur Radio Show...WWII Radio Heroes: Letters of Compassion is a story about ham radio operators and others alerting families of POWs during a time of war. The book features more than 30 letters and postcards sent to the author's family in 1943, notifying them of her grandfather's capture and status as a prisoner of war. Upon discovering these letters, Ms. Spahr, began researching the people who did this, and why, and reached out to find them or their next of kin, more than 60 years after the fact. Her journey is detailed in WWII Radio Heroes.
Softcover: 210 pages
Publisher: Intrigue Publishing; Second Edition (May 2013)
ISBN: 978-0-9891914-0-1 Order Number: 9705
Price: $19.95 Canadian or U.S.

Radio Auroras
Radio amateurs know that sunspots affect VHF as well as HF propagation, and the solar cycle has a direct bearing on the prevalence of radio auroras, although the extent of this mode of propagation is not widely known. Radio Auroras sets out to explain this phenomenon in an easy to understand and useful way.
Radio Auroras tells the fascinating story of the radio amateurs who discovered this mode of propagation and how they made use of it. It includes details of how auroras are caused, how they can be forecast, and how best to use them to work DX. While auroras are often thought to be a VHF effect, this book also describes radio auroras at 28MHz as well as outlining the effects of auroras on the other HF bands. If you are interested in radio propagation or work DX on VHF, this is a must-have book.
Softcover: 64 pages
Publisher: Radio Society of Great Britain (RSGB); Revised First Edition (2012)
ISBN: 9781-9050-8681-8 Order Number: 1208
Price: $12.95 Canadian or U.S.
